To whom it may concern,

We are high end custom home builders specializing in work on the West side of Los Angeles. We have worked with Don Harari and Royal Care Services for several years and can say without hesitation that they are the best stone care subcontractors we have ever used. I have recommended them to clients even when we are not involved in the project. They are limited size wise by Don Harari being personally involved in the projects but it is worth waiting for his schedule as each of our projects gets his direct attention. He is our first choice for this type of work and I recommend him and RCS very highly.

Sincerely,
